

Fall Courses

1. Introduction to Sunnah: History, Development, Recording, Proof-values, Texts and Imams.

Sunnah is the second major source of Islam. This course explains its different meanings for various fields of Islamic knowledge. The history and evolution of the various fields of Sunnah and its proof-value are explained. The major texts and significant imams of Sunnah are briefly studied to learn from their exemplary lives and efforts.

Click Here to View Course Syllabus

Click here to view Sept 13 Sunnah Presentation

Click here to view Sept 27 Sunnah Presentation

Click here to view Oct 18 Sunnah Presentation

Click here to view Oct 25 Sunnah Presentation

Click here to view Nov 8 Sunnah Presentation

Click here to view Nov 15 Sunnah Presentation

Click here to view Sunnah Final Exam

2. Fiqh of worship: History, obligations, voluntary acts, rewards, spiritual benefits and contemporary issues related to the main pillars of Islam which are Salat, Zakat, Hajj and Fasting.

This course is essential for every Muslim of any age. It explains the most important aspects, practices and spiritual benefits of the most essential ibadat of Islam. It is simple enough to help ordinary and new Muslims yet very scholarly and sophisticated to benefit highly educated and leaders of Muslim communities.

Click Here to View Course Syllabus

Click here to view Sept 14 Fiqh of Worship Presentation

Click here to view Sept 28 Fiqh of Worship Presentation

Click here to view Oct 12 Fiqh of Worship Presentation

Click here to view Nov 09 Fiqh of Worship Presentation

Click here to view Nov 16 Fiqh of Worship Presentation

Click here to view Zakat Calculation Form

Click here to view Fiqh of Worship Exam

3. Mustalah of Hadith (Hadith Terminology)

While Hadith is the second most important source of Islam, many muslims do not know the different categories of Hadith and what is acceptable and what is not. This course will help students understand the categories of acceptable ahadith and the efforts which Muslims scholars made in order to identify unauthentic ahadith. Furthermore, it will provide students with the sources of the utmost reliable ahadith and the best methodology of interpretation and understanding of such ahadith.

Click here to view Oct 11 Mustalah of Hadith Presentation

Click here to view Oct 18 Mustalah of Hadith Presentation

Click here to view Oct 25 Mustalah of Hadith Presentation

Click here to view Nov 8 Mustalah of Hadith Presentation

Click here to view Nov 15 Mustalah of Hadith Presentation

Click here to view Nov 22 Mustalah of Hadith Presentation

Click here to view Mustalah of Hadith Final Exam

4. Aqidah: Principles of Faith 202

Beliefs in Islam are very important and upon which the practices of Islam are based upon it. This course will explain the Aqidah as understood and practiced by the four imams of Ahl UsSunnah (Abu Hanifah, Malik, Shafei and Ahmad) with contemporary applications and implications. It is based on the text of Aqidah Tahawiyyah by Imam Abi ja'far At-tahawi and the various explanations of it along the authentication of its Ahadith by Shaikh Nasir-u-ddin Al Albani (May Allah bless their souls)

Click here to view Oct 12 Aqidah Presentation

Click here to view Oct 19 Aqidah Presentation

Click here to view Nov 09 Aqidah Presentation

Click here to view Nov 16 Aqidah Presentation

Click here to view Nov 23 Aqidah Presentation

Click here to view Aqeedah Final Exam

Each course is completed in 8 sessions with each session lasting for 4 hours .

All sessions are held on weekends. Every weekend day includes two sessions for two different courses.

Students have the choice to enroll in one or more courses every semester.

By attending only on Saturdays or Sundays, the student can finish at least two courses per semester

If a student attends both weekend days, he/she will be able to finish four courses in a semester.

Each course will be followed by an exam for credit. All students will get certificates for participation. Students who pass the exam will be awarded a certificate of completion